

Dr. Antonietta Di Giulio – short CV

University of Basel, Department of Environmental Sciences (DUW), Program Man-Society-Environment (MGU)
Vesalgasse 1, CH-4051 Basel, antonietta.digiulio@unibas.ch

Personal Information

Date/place of birth: March 1, 1965 in Grenchen (Switzerland)
Nationalities: Italian; Swiss

Education

2008: Certificate of Advanced Studies in Higher Education, CAS HE (University of Bern)
2003: Ph.D. in Philosophy (University of Bern)
1994: Licentiate (equivalent of M.A.) in Philosophy and German Studies (University of Bern)
1984-1994: Student of Philosophy and German Studies at the Universities of Fribourg and Bern

Professional Career

since 2014: Senior researcher, Program Man-Society-Environment (MGU), University of Basel since 1995: Leader of the international and inter-university Research Group Inter-/Transdisciplinarity (Universities Basel, Freiburg i. Br.; until 2014 Bern/Freiburg i. Br.)
2008-2017: Lecturer in Educational Theory and Instructional Methods in the subject areas of Interdisciplinarity and Education for Sustainable Development at the School of Teacher Education (PH) within the University of Applied Sciences of North-Western Switzerland (FHNW)
1991-2013: Interdisciplinary Centre for General Ecology, University of Bern (IKAÖ); since 2008 university lecturer in General Ecology, focus on general propaedeutics of science (human and natural) (allgemeine Wissenschaftspropädeutik) and interdisciplinarity, since 2011 co-leader of the institute and head ad int. of its teaching department

Occupational Experience

Research: Leading a research group; initiating, acquiring and leading research projects (9 projects with more than CHF 200,000 third-party funding; roughly 20 research projects with a smaller amount of third-party funding; list of projects and publications upon request); managing research projects and project groups; promoting young researchers; designing and organising conferences and workshops (list upon request)
Teaching: Designing and delivering seminars and lectures at all levels of higher education (alone or team teaching; Universities Bern, Fribourg, Lüneburg, Munich and Bochum as well as PH FHNW and Lucerne University of Applied Sciences and Art; list upon request); assessing students; designing (in terms of content and methods) and supervising degree courses; establishing and maintaining offerings of further training (Universities Bern, Lüneburg, Munich, PH FHNW and on behalf of DFG, BMBF and other organisations; list upon request)
Services: Consulting institutions, organisations and projects on questions about inter- and transdisciplinarity and curriculum development (list upon request)
Leadership: Co-leading of an interdisciplinary university institute; personnel planning and personnel management; coordinating and supervising processes concerning the running of degree courses; supervising course guidance and marketing of degree courses

Research Interests

Inter- and transdisciplinarity in research: challenges and requirements; process design in projects and project groups; quality and evaluation

Inter- and transdisciplinarity in teaching: imparting competencies for inter- and transdisciplinary work; general propaedeutics of science (human and natural) (allgemeine Wissenschaftspropädeutik); curriculum development (higher education); quality and evaluation

Sustainability: the idea of sustainability; education and sustainable development; the good life and the concept of needs; sustainable consumption

(complete CV in German upon request)